May is bread month!
What are you talking about?
January is mochi month. February is udon month. March is red bean rice.
You imagine each month has its own food?
What's April?
April is macaroni and June is crepes.
Where'd you get those two?
July is pancakes and August is soumen.
September is freshly steamed rice and October is fresh soba, right?
November is baumkuchen and December is pie!
Those aren't main dishes.
That's why May is bread!
For me, May is chirashi sushi!
